Online discussions on non-state actors' engagement in the Action Agenda for Nature and People

27 September 2021 – 10 October 2021

What is the Sharm El-Sheikh to Kunming Action Agenda for Nature and People?

- Spearheaded at COP14 (2018) by the Governments of Egypt and China;
- Mechanism to raise public and policy awareness, inspire sub-national and non-state actor commitments and catalyze upward cycles of ambition to 2030 and beyond;
- Supports a whole of society approach to join the global response to biodiversity;
- Proves that sub-national and non-state actors can complement the policy process with meaningful actions and active engagement to support governments;
- Ultimately it aims to generate a measurable impact and shift in the management of stakeholder's own activities to reverse loss, reduce risks and recover biodiversity.

Why is it so important?

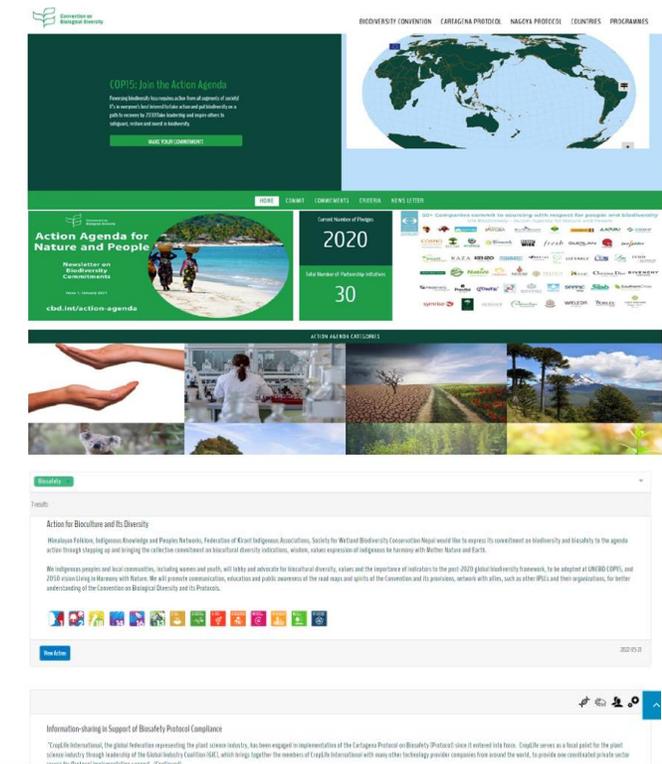

-demonstrates, through individual & cooperative commitments, the actors already committed to the necessary transition to achieve the 2030 goals & targets;

-encourages others to take action because it is in their best interest;

-helps organize, explain actions and examine target setting within economic sectors;

-supports implementation at the global, domestic and local levels;

Implementation Plan for Protocol

Implementation Plan and the Capacity-building Action Plan for the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, expected to be adopted at COP-MOP 10,

-Parties and other stakeholders are also encouraged to promote and facilitate public awareness, education and participation on the safe transfer, handling and use of LMOs.

The Global Biodiversity Framework, including a target related to biosafety, expected to be adopted at COP 15

-Aims to galvanize urgent and transformative action by Governments and all of society, including indigenous peoples and local communities, civil society, and businesses.

For the new Implementation Plan for the Cartagena Protocol and the new Global Biodiversity Framework to achieve success by 2030

-Parties need the support from non-state actors on biosafety commitments to support government.

Before and after COP-MOP 10, there are opportunities to cooperate with actors across society to help reach biosafety and biodiversity goals, and to enhance multi-stakeholder collaboration in support of the post 2020 Global Biodiversity Framework and the Implementation Plan for the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety.

Non-state actors can help to mainstream biosafety into biodiversity goals
